

Churches and Movies

It's becoming more common. Pastors use portions of movies to enhance sermon points. Sunday school teachers and childcare workers play a full-length feature. Youth leaders show the latest videos. Educators use movies to train and inspire. For all these activities, the Church Video License provides legal coverage for your church.

Most of us fast-forward right through that warning at the beginning of videos and DVDs. Ever wonder what it actually says? The German Copyright Act stipulates that pre-recorded videos are authorized for personal home use only. Special permission must be granted for any public performance . . . and that includes churches. Violations can result in substantial fines.

The Church Video Licence

Now, there's an affordable, convenient solution. CCLI has joined with Motion Picture Licensing Corporation (MPLC), providing the Church Video Licence for churches and other ministry organizations who show videos and DVDs in a public setting. Included are big-name studios like Universal Pictures, Dreamworks SKG, Polygram Filmed Entertainment, and Paramount.

The Church Video Licence covers:

- Play clips of videos to illustrate sermons
- Show films for teaching or entertainment in childrens meetings
- Hold film clubs on your church premises
- Utilise videos and films for education and teaching

Prices Prices shown are the annual CVL Licence fees. Please note that the size does not relate to church members, but to average attendance of your church services. If your church runs several main services simply add the average attendance number of your main services
